SUMMARY

I'm a Full-Stack Web Developer passionate about turning ideas into products that solve real-world problems. I specialize in building performant full-stack applications. I also have experience in Flutter mobile app development and possess strong foundational knowledge of Data Structures, Object-Oriented Programming (OOP), and Database Management Systems (DBMS). I am an AI/ML enthusiast, currently exploring Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning to integrate AI/ML into projects where it creates the most impact. I am seeking opportunities to contribute to real-world software products while continuously improving my problem-solving and development skills.
